Apprentice excursion 08

Another year has flown by and the second DKB apprentice excursion is already over.

This year, we went to Lucerne, the city of bridges. We didn't know what to expect in Central Switzerland when we met at Zurich main station early in the morning.

After a one-hour train ride, we arrived in the beautiful city of Lucerne. First, we went to the historic city center to visit a former jail that was renovated and now houses a hotel which is called "Der Knast" (the Jail Hotel). We were welcomed by two nice ladies who had organized the entire event and planned the program for the morning. They split us into three groups and we were given a mystery to solve. We had to find out how Luigi Cornuto, suspected of burning

Final report of the team "Detective Derrick": Joelle Cao (second year, EDAK), Elisa Berardelli (first year, DKB Management), Niru Nagalingam (third year, Wetrok), Burak Yilmaz (second year, EDAK), Silvio Casanova (apprentice coordinator, EDAK).

Team "Detective Rex", f.l.t.r.: Jan Brack (second year, EDAK), Doriana Bruni (second year, DKB Management), Gabriela Prajczar (apprentice coordinator, DKB Management), Marina Fadi (first year, DKB Management), Roger Fritschi (first year, EDAK).

down Lucerne's Kappel bridge, escaped prison. Every group received detective badges, a Polaroid camera and a city map. We then left to follow in Luigi Cornuto's tracks. We hunted him through the city, stopping to solve different tasks. It was very hot and the burning sun drained our energy while we toured the city. At noon, we all met in the restaurant Taube, on the banks of the river Reuss, where we discussed our experiences and the evidence that we had gathered during the detective game. We were served drinks and snacks to satisfy our thirst and hunger while we created a collage with photos, impressions and short descriptions of our detective game.

After having said goodbye to the two organizers of the detective game, we set off to Kriens by bus. We then changed into little gondolas which took us up Mount Pilatus. In the mountain restaurant, the staff were already waiting for us. We started our meal with a soup, which was not really appreciated at an outside temperature of 30°C. The second course was a simple salad (iceberg lettuce) which was followed by the main course, a traditional dish from Lucerne: Pastetli, little puff pastry pies stuffed with meatballs in a white sauce and served with rice. For dessert, we had Panna Cotta, which was so delicious that it put a smile on all of our faces. With that, our hunger was conquered and we left the restaurant.

After a five-minute uphill walk, we arrived at the Pilatus summer toboggan run. Some of us could hardly wait to board the toboggans, while others didn't feel like speeding down the mountain. A few runs later, it was time for us to get back to Kriens. On our way to the bus stop, we were offered an ice-cream at a kiosk to refresh ourselves and to make the bus trip from Kriens to Lucerne that much sweeter. We ran out of time – when we finally arrived at the main station in Lucerne we had to speed for the train, which we luckily caught, despite tired limbs. That was the end of our exciting apprentice excursion. We arrived at Zurich main station at 6:30 pm and said our goodbyes.
